

U.S. NATIONAL TEAM

U.S. NATIONAL TEAM PROGRAM

USA Football is committed to the growth and development of athletes across the nation. Through the U.S. National Team Program, athletes are given the ability to accelerate their skills, compete, and have the opportunity to play for their country.

U.S. NATIONAL TEAM PATHWAY

Regional Development Camps

Two-day training and competition camps

- Athletes in 6th-11th grade develop and compete for spots within the National Team program
- Features current NCAA coaches who provide premier training and recruiting exposure

National Development Games (contact or non-contact)

Athletes selected from Regional Development Camps compete in a contact or non-contact style of play.

Athletes train with current NCAA coaches and compete against top players from across the nation.

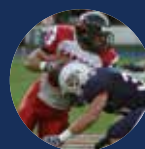

CONTACT:

- Fully padded, five day program
- Full length games
- Jamboree competitions

NON-CONTACT:

- 3 day weekend event
- Equipment-free program
- Tournament-style 7-on-7 competitions and Big Man Academy

International Competitions

Athletes selected from National Development Games represent the U.S. and compete against other countries' national teams.

Currently, each U.S. age level competes annually against Canada in the International Bowl

World Championships

Men's and U-19 Teams

- U.S. competes for gold medals in eight-team tournaments hosted by countries around the world

COACHES AND SCOUTS

Current NCAA and high school coaches are permitted to coach the U.S. National Teams and instruct at all the training events.

Former NFL coaches and players provide participating athletes with on-field instruction and off-the-field player and parent development sessions.

U.S. NATIONAL TEAM

*Heads Up Football® components are implemented in all U.S. National Team programs
